Notes from initial build

The intro button is working great!

Two things to consider from here on out:

- Figuring out responsiveness. The title can have varying size.
- Consider legibility with the headers, the letters can be thicker, or you can use the same typeface as the navigation.
- Add screenshots from the anime in the production and themes section; the movie End of Evangelion would help with the themes section to add variety. I can send you pictures to include if you'd like! You don't need to add too much, I think 3 or more would suffice.
- For the character page: horizontal scroll on the left side. Refer:
https://www.w3schools.com/howto/howto_js_slideshow.asp
- Also (sorry I forgot to mention this in the meeting) add Rei Ayanami in the character page, she's one of the three main pilots!

What needs most attention would be to figure out the mobile view. Other than those things it looks incredible!
